Marilyn in Two Moods---Serious and Gay

CONTRASTS—Marilyn Monroe presented a serious study and a whimsical one when the pictures above were taken by a magazine photographer about a month ago during interview. Right, Marilyn as she appeared in childhood, photo isn't known.

DEPARTURE—The body of Marilyn Monroe is wheeled from county coroner's office by attendants to be taken to Westwood Village Mortuary where final rites for the Hollywood film star will be held.

IMAGED AT MORTUARY—Marilyn Monroe is re-housed, Joe DiMaggio, leaves Westwood Village Mortuary where he met her relatives. DiMaggio flew on Sunday after 'learning of star's death'.

Cost Great; So Is Love for Baby

BY HARRY ANN CULLEN

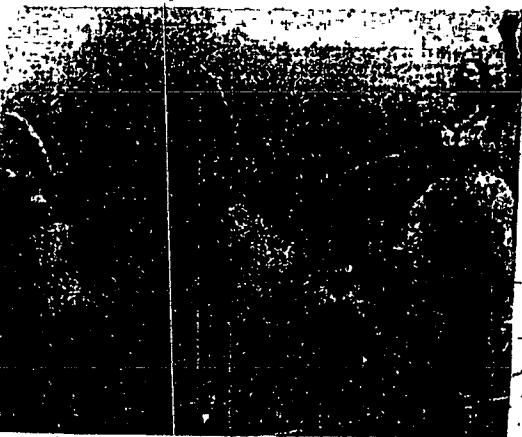

Parents of the only living American baby born with deformities because the mother took this medicine were named Monday that part of their medical costs can be assumed by the county. But what specialists call their greatest burden—the emotional agony of raising such a child—does not concern Mr. and Mrs. William Wade, 22, of 1428 W. 14th St., Gardena.

The parents of seven-month-old William Jr., born with deformities of both arms, were happily concealing the boy with two brothers—their own. Job of both maternal and paternal grandmothers and their other child, 13, the 2nd.

Not hanging over this picture is the terrible story of operations and possible, said Dr. Charles H. Hays, chief physician at Harbor General Hospital, will cost to $4,000.

LOTS OF LOVE—Mrs. Wade and daughter, Elizabeth, 21, for an American baby born with deformities. Mrs. Wade had taken this medicine.

Marilyn's Death Points Up Suicide Squad Work

Team of Psychological Sleuths Under Coroner Investigates Questionable Deaths

Selection of a "suicide squad" to determine whether the tragic death of Marilyn Monroe was suicide has focused attention on the widespread problem of self-destruction. Why is suicide committed and what kind of people do it? The following is the first of three articles on suicide and the work of the "suicide squad."

BY DON VICK

The 37-year-old high school student-pose found in his hotel died of a gunshot wound.

The gun was in his hand, and a .38 Smith & Wesson bullet had pierced his heart.

My first question was: Was this a suicide? The answer was no. The man had no reason to kill himself, she said. It was a straight-up accident and happy at home.

There was no reason, she said. The man's only problem was that he was a bit of a loner. He had no friends and no family.
